Senator Wright presented a memorial murder had been rampant in Louisiana, in view of the fact that these very men who surrounded the legislature were covered with blood, and ready to com-inform the senate by what authority such military intervention has taken place.

SenatorConkling said he would suggest that it would be better to preserve customary phrasealogy of such recolutions by inserting the words, "if in his judgment it is not incompatible with public interest."

Senator Thurman said he did not agree with Senator Conkling as to the propriety of inserting the words, and suggested that this question did not relate to any foreign power, but if it was such a question, then it would be proper to insert these words; it was not for the senate to submit to the opinion or judgment of the President. It was proper that the senate should know the facts.

Senator Thurman said if the President would infer that there are war-like movements, although the Louisiana trouble had the appearance of war. It was not a war made by the people; he would not say who did make the war, but would wait for the facts in the case.

Senator Conkling said he inadvertentty had given Senator Thurman an option of the Cuited States were to overthrow to the following property to the highest bidder, for cash, to carry out the provisions of a trust deat made by P.
